About Naudia Miller

Naudia Miller aka “Just Call Me Nas”, and even more concise, Nas, carries over 15 years of cultural and creative industry experience. In 2016 Nas, a Seattle native, launched her first business, Pacific Empire LLC, which currently offers lifestyle, mindset, and spiritual coaching through the entrepreneurial lens. She has also partnered with Black and Tan Hall to work on generating economic wealth within the black community. Her work doesn't stop there; as a creative, Nas is also involved with film and music and can be heard on multiple tracks on Marshall Law Band's latest project 12th & Pine. Education is also very important to Nas as she has earned an AA with an emphasis in equity and social justice and is pursuing a Bachelor's in music education with a vocal emphasis. While she is not juggling her many projects and helping amplify displaced and under-represented voices, Nas is raising her two boys and attending college as a full-time student.

Client Quotes

"Don't think about it, just do it. If you're considering using her services it's a no brainier because she will get the job done right! After working with Naudia I feel refreshed and more determined because her drive is awe inspiring. I highly recommend Naudia. I have not only used her services in the past but plan on working with her again as I diversify. She is well organized, willing to take the extra step and creative. " Jamal Barnett | Real Estate Agent | www.soldbyjamal.com

"I'd say there's nothing to lose but everything to gain by connecting with Naudia.... [after connecting I felt] Great. Nothing short of an amazing person/energy/spirit." Maggie "MAGesty" Cohen | Recording Artist & CEO of Independent Record Label
